STATE SOLID WASTE PLANNING AGENCIES

This listing provides the names and addresses of solid waste planning agencies for all States, territories, and the District of Columbia. The addressee noted is the working contact for that jurisdiction's solid waste planning activities.

Thirty-five States, one territory, and the District of Columbia have U.S. Public Health Service solid waste planning grants. These jurisdictions are asterisked. In every case but one, the addressees for the solid waste planning grant agencies are the project directors of the solid waste planning grant.

A descriptive listing of planning grants is included in a separate publication entitled State/Interstate Solid Waste Planning Grant Listing. In addition to providing the name and address of the project director, this publication gives information on the recommended PHS financial support and the length of the planning project.

Additions, corrections or questions concerning the information in the listing should be addressed to:
